READ Mark 5.21-43

We meet an important man from the synagogue, Jairus. He comes to Jesus and asks him to heal his daughter who is seriously ill. On the way to Jairus' house, a woman, suffering from bleeding, touches Jesus in the crowd. Jesus knows he was touched and knows the woman is healed. When they arrive at Jairus' house, his daughter has died. However, Jesus makes her live again.

A note on the passage.

Jesus not only heals a sick woman but brings a young girl back from the dead. Despite being jostled by a busy crowd, Jesus is aware of the woman seeking healing and responds accordingly. He shows no concern for the Jewish purity laws and touches the dead child. He reaches beyond the boundaries of society to offer healing. The woman, in true faith, also reaches out of the crowd to ask for his healing.

Ask yourself: Where do we see people needing help and healing in our world today? What are the barriers in place which may be preventing them from receiving what they need?

Pray

Identify the prayer concerns in the passage, i.e. Jairus was worried about his daughter, the woman had health issues. Make a list of the things people were thinking and feeling, and add the names of any individuals you know who fit into that category. Pray through your list, asking God to bring comfort and healing.
