Bible reading John 11:1–45 Jesus wept THIS WEEK WE EXPLORE GRIEF, A COMMON HUMAN EXPERIENCE. In this week's Bible story, we hear about the most amazing miracle: Lazarus is brought back from the dead – contentious then, and still so today. As we explore how different people in the story responded to grief and loss, what can that tell us about these familiar experiences and emotions in our lives today?

First impressions

- What does grief feel like?
- What helps in such situations?
- What can we learn from the experience of grief about ourselves or each other.

A prayer of thanksgiving

A sorrow shared is a sorrow halved. We have seen the closeness of Lazarus and his sisters, to each other and to you, Lord Jesus. We thank you that, through you, we too can have that shared experience. Thank you that in our time of grief, however long it takes, you are there. Thank you that you can bring new life to us. And thank you most of all for the gift of eternal life. Amen.
