Esther 7:1–6,9–10; 9:20–22 Right person, right place, right time .

Esther, a young Jewish woman who has become queen, has learnt of a plot by her husband's adviser, Haman, to wreak revenge by murdering her people. Risking her life, she courageously stands up for herself and her fellow Jews.

Haman is duly punished. The feast of Purim is established as an annual celebration of this deliverance.

First impressions

- Have you ever been the right person in the right place at the right time?
- Is God calling you to speak up about a particular issue?
- How can you help others to find their calling?

A sending out prayer

May we listen for God's call, know his strength, see where he is leading us, be faithful in doing his work and make way for his kingdom. Amen

REFLECT

Reflect on the risk Esther took, challenging the king while admitting to being a Jew. What response do we receive today if we profess our faith? Should we take that risk and why? Are there people or places you know of where people are persecuted for their faith? Could you pray, write letters or advocate for their protection?
